PANAMA CONFERENCE PROCLAIMS ZONE FOR SAFETY OF SHIPPING

Republics of Western Hemisphere Approve General Declaration of Neutrality With Uniform Standards, Rights and Obligations—General Economic Plan to Be Formulated

PANAMA, Panama, Oct. 2 (AP).—A full plenary meeting of delegates of the twenty-one American republics tonight approved the declaration of Panama proclaiming a broad safety zone in American waters for inter-American shipping and a general declaration of neutrality in the European war.

Rushing to completion the entire neutrality programme for protection of American interests, the delegates asserted the declaration was a "complement to the Monroe doctrine" and established for the first time "continental American seas."

The declaration said that each American Government, by common consent, will serve notice on belligerents in the war of a fixed neutral zone within which belligerent activities will be regarded as a danger to American peace.

A corollary doctrine included in the general neutrality declaration fixes uniform standards, rights and obligations of neutrals with belligerents.

ECONOMIC PROGRAMME

The measures are to be reinforced by a general economic programme to be formulated by a permanent advisory committee in Washington.

Upon the motion of Sumner Welles, United States Under-Secretary of State, the conference tonight unanimously requested President Juan D. Arce, of Panama, to communicate the declaration of Panama to all the belligerent nations in Europe.

The session approved a continental solidarity declaration in which the American nations:

1. Reaffirmed "the declaration of solidarity among the peoples of this hemisphere proclaimed at the Lima conference in 1938."

2. Pledged themselves to conserve and strengthen peace and harmony among the American republics.

3. "Formulated fervent hopes for cessation of the deplorable state of war in Europe and for 'a new reign in the world of peace, not of violence but of justice and right.'"

The declaration of "general neutrality" gave each country the right

SAFE AT HOME AFTER JOURNEY

British School Children Who Visited Canada Back In England

LONDON, Oct. 2 (CP).—More than 100 British school children returned to England today after visits to Canada and Newfoundland. Their arrival was delayed by disruption of regular ship movements.

Sixty of the children had toured Canada and departed from the United States liner President Harding. Forty-six boys came in a British liner from an expedition to Newfoundland under auspices of the Public Schools Exploring Society.

The boys from Newfoundland said they took turns keeping watch with field glasses for enemy submarines in two hourly shifts throughout the twenty-four hours of each day.

SIGHTED CONVOYS

The twelve boys and forty-eight girls from Canada said they saw fifteen freighters being convoyed by craft of the Royal Navy.

They were among a party of more than 100 children who sailed to Canada early in August aboard the liner Athenia, later sunk by a German submarine.

After a five-week tour they started for home but the ship was ordered back to St. Lawrence port.

R. J. Milton, master of Brighton Grammar School, in charge of the party, said: "The whole party, including girls, then went camping in the Laurentian Mountains and had a great time."

"We got in touch with parents to find out their wishes, and twenty-five of forty-one Scottish girls and twenty of fifty-two English girls remained behind in Canada."

"The Scottish girls are now in school in Ottawa, and the English girls in Toronto. Most of the English girls in the party came from Liverpool and Manchester."

Traffic Violator In Gun Battle

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 2 (AP).—Police wounded and captured Dr. Hubert H. London, forty-six, negro physician, today after a two-hour gun battle at his home, where he barricaded himself to resist serving of a warrant charging him with two traffic violations.

The Scottish girls are now in school in Ottawa, and the English girls in Toronto. Most of the English girls in the party came from Liverpool and Manchester."

German diplomats, making an effort to leave no doubt in the minds of inquirers that Hitler and Mussolini see eye to eye, emphasized the belief that if Hitler's "peace offers" are rejected the world could anticipate a long war.

FOR FOREIGN CONSUMPTION
Hitler's speech, according to all signs, will be intended primarily for foreign consumption, and will, it was believed generally in informed circles, once more offer an olive branch to Great Britain.

Germany's armed forces continue to consolidate her position in Poland. The high command announced that Hela Peninsula, the last centre of Polish resistance, had surrendered, and that among the prisoners taken were the commanding rear admiral, fifty-two officers and 4,000 men.

Warsaw, it was announced, was being occupied without incident.

Seven Killed On Opening Day of The Deer Season

SEATTLE, Oct. 2 (AP).—The opening of the 1939 deer hunting season yesterday claimed lives of five men in Washington and Oregon from gunshot wounds. Shotgun accidents killed two additional Oregon bird hunters. Two additional Washington hunters died of heart attacks.

NEUTRALITY DEBATE OPEN

Senators Pittman and Borah Lead Off Argument Pro and Con

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (CP).—Senator Key Pittman, Nevada Democrat, opened the Senate debate on neutrality today with a warning that continued embargo of United States arms exports to belligerents gives unfair aid to Germany.

But Senator William Borah, Idaho Republican and leader of the group opposing the Roosevelt Administration's "cash, credit and carry" plan for arms exports, declared repeal of the embargo would lead to United States involvement in the war between Germany and the Allies.

Borah held United States could not well refuse to fight for the Allies if they were supplied with American arms.

EXCLUDES GERMANY

Repeal of the embargo, which the President has requested, would make United States war material available to all belligerents, but observers have pointed to Britain's command of the seas as making it possible for the Allies to obtain such shipments and at the same time virtually exclude Germany from American markets.

Pittman, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, declared at the outset the proposal to repeal the arms ban and place all trade with belligerents upon a ninety-day credit cash-and-carry basis was "the most important legislation that has ever been proposed to Congress."

The present world situation was the gravest in history, he said, "and we as the representatives of a peace-loving democratic people have no right to refuse to take into consideration that such war, or a war that develops out of it, may not some day be brought to the gateway of our country."

"The maintenance of the embargo is a discrimination in favor of Germany, because it prevents Great Britain, which is surrounded by water, from purchasing in our market arms, ammunition and implements of war, whilst Germany, being a land power, has access to arms, ammunition and implements of war that may be manufactured in Russia."

To Celebrate Anniversary Of Ascension

SOFIA, Oct. 2 (AP).—Bulgaria's King Boris will celebrate the twenty-first anniversary of his ascension to the throne tomorrow by driving a locomotive on a new Bulgarian railroad and by granting amnesty to 176 political prisoners.

The prisoners were believed to include Communists, Macedonian revolutionaries and friends of Danyan Velcheff, who engineered a 1934 army coup d'etat aimed at usurping the King's powers. Velcheff was condemned to death, but Boris in 1936 commuted the sentence to life imprisonment.

The fact that recent U-boat warfare has been concentrated in the North Sea and in the passages leading to the Baltic is viewed here as proof only small coastal submarines of 250 tons or less are now at the Nazis' disposal.

PRINCIPAL ATTACKERS

The larger German submarines, exceeding 250 tons and having a wide cruising range, were principal attackers in the first phase of the war, French naval circles believed. Apparently the Allies inflicted the gravest losses among this class of craft, of which available statistics indicate Germany had eighteen at the start of the year.

The fact that recent U-boat warfare has been concentrated in the North Sea and in the passages leading to the Baltic is viewed here as proof only small coastal submarines of 250 tons or less are now at the Nazis' disposal.

CLAIMS CRAFT SANK

The Swedish skipper said that the German commander of the U-boat told him the British submarine was sunk.

The British apparently did not attack the German submarine, the Swedish captain said, because they learned from the Gun's crew that he was aboard the U-boat.

Eighteen crewmen of the Gun were rescued by a Danish steamship. The Swedish captain said the German commander who held him captive also sank the Danish ship Vendia, torpedoed Saturday in the North Sea with a loss of eleven men.

DUCK SHOOTER KILLED

OLDS, Alta, Oct. 2 (CP).—Known only as "Lee," an unidentified, transient harvest worker was accidentally shot and killed while duck shooting at Burns Lake, eleven miles southeast of here, Friday.

The man was struck in the head by a 22 calibre bullet. An inquest has been ordered.

SIXTY-SIX KILLED IN MEXICAN MINE

Seven Others Injured In Gas Explosion In Old Shaft—Several Cave-Ins Result

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Oct. 2 (AP).—The Eagle Pass Guide says a telephone communication with authorities at Rosita, Coahuila, Mexico, indicated sixty-six miners were killed and seven wounded in a gas explosion at the Palau Mine, twenty miles southwest of Rosita, late on Saturday.

The bodies were removed and buried yesterday.

The blast occurred in an old shaft that was being reopened at a depth of 470 feet. Several cave-ins resulted.

The explosion was so terrific, the newspaper was informed, that it blew the cage into the upper, at the ground level. The seven who were injured were near the shaft opening. Those below were killed.

Ship's Crew Is Rescued

This picture was made from the deck of the United States freighter, American Farmer, off the Irish coast, and shows a lifeboat with crew members from the torpedoed British freighter Kafiristan approaching the ship. The crew was landed at New York safely, but the German submarine is believed to have been sunk by a British plane which bombed it.

Intensify Moves Aimed at Wider Area of Control

Latvian Representatives Have Long Conference With Stalin and Other Russians—No Brass Bands or Banners in Evidence—Negotiations With Turkish Minister Proceeds

MOSCOW, Oct. 2 (AP).—Joseph Stalin and other Soviet Russian officials held a two-hour conference tonight with Foreign Minister William Munters of Latvia as Soviet Russia intensified her diplomatic moves in the Baltic, the Black Sea and the Balkans.

Diplomatic observers agreed the conference was a probable attempt to strengthen Soviet control of the North Baltic and the Gulf of Finland gained through a treaty last Friday with Estonia.

No announcement was made of the purpose, and official interpretation likewise still was lacking of negotiations proceeding with the Turkish Foreign Minister, Sukru Saracoglu, who is in Moscow.

Latvian officials, invited here for the conversation, was the Latvian director of Department of Treaties, Mr. Kampe. The Soviet Minister to Latvia, I. S. Zotoff, and the Soviet trade representative in Latvia, M. Continued on Page 3, Column 2

CLAIM BRITISH WARSHIP SUNK

Swedish Master, Held by U-Boat, Told Allied Submarine Defeated

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 2 (AP).—The master of the Swedish steamship Gun, sunk fifty-three miles off Hantsholm, Denmark, asserted today the crew of the German submarine which dynamited his ship told him they also sank a British submarine which appeared on the scene.

The British submarine appeared while the German crew was placing dynamite in the Gun's hold.

The master of the Swedish ship said the German U-boat dived while he and two other Swedes were aboard it, staying down from 5 p.m. Saturday until 4 a.m. Sunday, during which time three torpedoes were fired.

German Note Says American Vessels Should Not Act Suspiciously

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP).—Germany warned United States merchant ships today against "suspicious behavior" in waters around Great Britain and France.

A note to this effect was received by the State Department and transmitted to the Maritime Commission. The commission and the navy hydrographic office forwarded the warning to American merchant vessels and port authorities.

A State Department official said that the warning was, in effect, an acceptance of the decision by President Roosevelt that American merchant vessels should not be convoyed or zig-zag, but should show their true colors and at night have all lights burning.

The German note said: "Neutral merchant vessels have repeatedly attempted in the waters around France and England to evade the exercise of the rights of German naval forces granted by international law, of stoppage and search. Besides, they have repeatedly aroused suspicion of attack or of neutral acts by improper behavior."

"The Government of the Reich, therefore, begs to call the attention of American merchant vessels traveling into the waters mentioned to the fact that in their own interest, and in order to prevent confusion with naval or auxiliary ships of the enemy, especially at night, they should avoid any suspicious behavior."

Indication that the Swedish Government was planning energetic steps to protect its vessels was seen in one report that Swedish fighting planes fired warning shots at a German warship which halted a Swedish vessel and drove the warship away.

The report said the planes patrolling the Baltic Coast saw the warship hailing the vessel on Swedish waters and dived between the ships, firing warning machine-gun shots. The warship moved away and the vessel continued on its course.

Report Made by Swedish Naval Authorities—Plane Patrolling Coast Drives Off Warship Attempting Another Seizure in Neutral Water

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 2 (AP).—Swedish naval authorities reported tonight eight Swedish vessels were seized today by German air and naval forces near the Swedish island of Oland.

Earlier in the day Sweden learned another of its vessels, the Gun, had been dynamited by the crew of a German submarine, fifty-three miles off Hantsholm, Denmark.

The Swedish admiral commanding the southern district reported the eight ships were seized by the 1,250-ton German naval gunship ship Bremse and German armed trawlers in operations in which Nazi warplanes participated. The island of Oland lies off the southeastern coast of Sweden.

Red Cross Society's Superfluities Store Is Opened by Mayor

Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Hamber Attend Ceremony in Presence of Large Gathering— Appeals for Support of Worthy Effort

THE Red Cross Superfluities Store on Government Street got off to a good start yesterday afternoon, when Mayor Andrew McGavin officially opened the well-stocked store in the presence of a large attendance of the public.

The official opening ceremony was attended also by Hon. E. W. Hamber, Lieutenant-Governor, and Mrs. Hamber; Rt. Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia; the reeves of the adjoining municipalities, Rev. J. L. W. McLean, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and representatives of various patriotic and charitable organizations.

Announcement was made by Mayor McGavin on behalf of the Red Cross Society that the store was being secured to carry on the work done by "Muggins" during the last war.

INTEREST IN WAR WORK
Brigadier-General J. G. Austin, president of the Victoria branch of the Red Cross Society, referred to the superfluities store as an illustration of the interest that was being taken here in war work. The object of the store, he said, was to raise funds to support the sick and wounded of Canada's own men and the allies in the field.

The store had been loaned to the Red Cross by the Federal Government through efforts made by C. F. Dawson, Dominion architect, Brigadier Austin said. Its transformation was due to the energy of the manager and a body of men and women, who had given freely of their time and material, and to a party of Boy Scouts who had scrubbed the store in readiness for occupation.

Before declaring the store open, Mayor McGavin said that in these days of anxiety and uncertainty, the citizens of Victoria well knew the duty that fell upon them. The Red Cross was a national organization which was doing a great work—an organization in which the people had the fullest confidence. Its work over a period of many years had been for humanity, and it was always ready to serve in any national emergency.

EARLY PROFIT
The goods sold in the superfluities store would help to extend the work of the Red Cross, the mayor continued. During the last week, the store had made a profit of $113.15.

"I trust that the people of Victoria will buy all they can to help the Red Cross in its splendid work," Mayor McGavin concluded.

The work of the Red Cross throughout the world was well known to everyone, Mr. Hamber said, in a brief address in which he congratulated the Victoria branch on its worthy effort. Profiting by experience in the last war, patriotic bodies were being organized on a firmer footing; duplication of effort was being overcome; and the people knew that their work was being well directed, His Honor said.

"Great credit is due to those who are helping in this shop. I know that the people will support it, as they do any patriotic effort in Victoria," Mr. Hamber concluded.

After the opening, Mr. and Mrs. Hamber, Mayor McGavin, and others made a tour of inspection of the store.

Sign Polish Partition Agreement

German Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop is shown signing the Nazi-Soviet pact in Moscow, which stated special spheres of influence for each in Eastern Europe, and placed the threat of Russia's armed force alongside the armed might of the Reich. Standing left to right are: Soviet Ambassador to Germany Alexander Gorkhartzef, Dictator Stalin (white coat), and Foreign Commissar Molotov.

Richard Butler. He was replying to a question from Colonel Josiah Wedgwood, Labor, who asked for reports from British officials returning from Poland on the effects of bombings there so as to get "some idea of what it would be here."

Mr. Butler said such reports were not yet available. Sir Howard Kennard, Ambassador to Poland, arrived today, however, and is expected to provide full details.

Colonel Wedgwood, referring to the £2,000,000,000 (about $5,940,000,000) financial bill, which the House of Commons passed on second reading, criticized expenditures for air raid prevention, saying that "the enormous charge has been incurred because some people decided there would be 200,000 casualties in London was bombed—a fantastic figure."

The Government continued air raid precautions with a plan to remove 35,000 more children from danger zones.

AWAITING REPORTS
Naval authorities, meanwhile, awaited definite reports on the sinking of the Clement and the threat to the wheat route from South America.

The Admiralty could look to three ships if a German pocket battleship is roaming the seas. The Hood, Renown and Repulse, Great Britain's battle cruisers, can "catch and kill" a ship as large, 10,000 tons; as fast, twenty-six knots or better, and as heavily armed, six eleven-inch guns, as the pocket battleships—The Deutschland, the Admiral Graf Spee and the Admiral Scheer.

One of these three was damaged by British airplanes in a raid on Wilhelmshaven on September 4.

The Home Fleet is undamaged by the Germans, said Captain Alan Kirk, United States naval attaché. He visited the Fleet on Sunday and said that the normal force of the entire fleet, including every one of the capital ships, was present. This report supplemented similar statements by the Admiralty which denied German claims that British warships had been attacked successfully.

Other developments on the home front:

"I understand she married a struggling young man."
"Yes, he struggled, but he couldn't get away."

MILLIONS GET OLD YEARS TOO SOON
Rank carelessness the cause

Among your friends there are some of middle age who appear to have retained the exuberance and vitality of youth; while others accept prematurely ageing as the lot they must bear. Do you want to feel younger, eager to tackle any kind of work or play. Thousands of people just don't bother to do anything about constipation. They even refuse to believe they are constipated. They think that if a person is regular, that is all that matters. Occasionally they take "a good dose of something" when the need is evident. That is definitely not true.

The way to keep feeling fit, to prolong the years of youthful exuberance, and to keep the body free as possible from the effects of accumulated impurities is to take a course of treatment with the kidneys, the intestines and the bowels. To do that your body must get certain minerals in some way.

We make no exaggerated claims for Kruschen salts, but we recommend the "little daily dose" because Kruschen contains several valuable mineral salts in highly refined form. Each salt has its particular function. In combination they help rid your system of excess uric acid. Thus free from the acute effects of accumulated impurities you are much less liable to suffer from splitting headaches, acid indigestion, rheumatic pains, flatulency, nervousness, and other ailments.

Thousands upon thousands of people throughout the world refer to the general well-being it imparts as "that million dollar Kruschen feeling." Start "the little daily dose" right away and just you see for yourself! At all drug counters 25c, 45c, 75c.

BLAMES SUBMARINE
RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 2 (AP).—The Brazilian Government news agency, Agencia Nacional, reported tonight the British freighter Clement was sunk by a submarine.

This account differed from earlier advice, based on an account of survivors, that the freighter was attacked by the caution of an armed German raider, and from official British reports that a cruiser or pocket battleship had made the attack.

Although first reports said eleven survivors in a lifeboat landed at Macello, about three hundred miles north of Bahia, Agencia Nacional said sixteen reached Macello aboard the Brazilian ship Itatiaia. The Agencia Nacional did not mention any arriving lifeboat.

The agency's dispatch from Macello quoted the survivors as asserting the attacker was a submarine. The ship was said to have been sunk after the crew entered lifeboats at the order of the German commander. The submarine fired twenty shots. The dispatch said the rescue took place yesterday morning.

About 1 p.m. the two youths met again and were joined by two other boys, Harold Crooks, 1513 Delta Avenue, and George Peden, sixteen, of 2347 McBride Avenue.

David George Lord was watching a rabbit hole when he was struck behind the hip by a bullet from a 30.30 calibre rifle that was accidentally discharged. The bullet lodged in the abdomen, causing injuries which proved fatal within twenty-four hours. The exact circumstances of the accident were being investigated yesterday by the Island division of the Provincial Police.

The fatality was the first of the shooting season in the Lower Vancouver Island area.

FUGITIVES REACH ISLAND IN SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 2 (AP).—The Polish patrol boat Batory arrived today at the Swedish island of Gotland with Polish military men from the surrendered Polish fortress of Hel Peninsula. Several times after they left Hel on Sunday the Batory was chased by German ships, but managed to elude capture.

The Polish fugitives included eighteen military men, mostly officers. Among them was the commander of the Hel fortress.

(Hel, last centre of Polish military resistance, surrendered on Sunday, Berlin claimed, after holding out through four weeks of German siege.)

TO PRESS WAR UNTIL FINAL VICTORY WON

Churchill Says Duration Depends on Hitler's Hold Over Germans

REVIEWS THE FIRST MONTH OF CONFLICT

LONDON, Oct. 2 (CP).—Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, told the Empire last night "it was for Hitler to say when the war would begin, but it is not for him or his successors to say when it will end."

Mr. Churchill, in a broadcast, said Great Britain is determined to press the war against Germany "until decisive victory is gained."

How soon the war ends, he said, depends upon "how long Herr Hitler and his group of wicked men whose hands are stained with blood and sticky with corruption can keep their grip upon the docile, unhappy German people."

His voice ringing with confidence, the First Lord of the Admiralty said no British ship had been attacked by U-boats during the past week because of the navy's guard and he added:

SUPPORT OF DOMINIONS
"We have the oceans. We have the freely-given ardent support of the 20,000,000 of British citizens in the self-governing Dominions of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa."

"We believe we are entitled to the respect and good will of the world and particularly of the United States."

Mr. Churchill referred to the "tremendous resources of Canada" in describing Britain's strength in facing a long war.

"We must always remember," he said, "that the command of the sea will enable us to bring the immense resources of Canada and the New World into play as a decisive ultimate air factor, beyond the reach of what we have to give and take over here."

He warned his listeners, "we have not yet come at all to the severity of the fighting which is to be expected," but listed "three important things" that have happened during the short course of hostilities.

SOUL IS INDESTRUCTIBLE
1. Poland has been overrun by Germany and Soviet Russia, but "the soul of Poland is indestructible."

2. Russia's invasion of Poland created an Eastern Front "which Nazi Germany does not dare assault."

3. "A week has passed since a British ship alone or in convoy has been sunk or even molested on the high seas" and "it would seem that the U-boat attack upon the life of the British Isles has not so far proved successful."

"We must, of course, expect that the U-boat attack upon the sea-borne commerce of the world will be renewed presently upon a greater scale," Mr. Churchill warned.

"We hope, however," Mr. Churchill continued, "that by the end of October we shall have three times as many hunting craft at work as we had at the beginning of the war; and by the measures we have taken, we hope that our means of putting down this pest will grow continually. We are taking great care about that."

SUMS UP RESULTS
"Therefore, to sum up the results of the first month, let us say that Poland has been overrun, but will rise again; that Russia has warned Hitler off his Eastern dreams; and that the U-boats may be safely left to the care and constant attention of the British navy."

Answering "approaches of those who wish to throw themselves into the fight," Mr. Churchill reiterated Great Britain's determination to press the war "until decisive victory is gained."

"Meanwhile patriotic men and women and those who understand the high causes in human fortunes which are at stake must not only rise above fear, they must also rise above inconvenience and boredom," he warned.

CANADA SHOULD SHARE BURDENS

Vancouver Trade Board Urges Contributions to Mother Country

VANCOUVER, Oct. 2 (CP).—A resolution passed by the council of the Vancouver Board of Trade and sent to Prime Minister King and members of his Cabinet urges that Canada, in addition to furnishing war supplies and commodities to the British Government, should give aid by "regular and substantial contributions and supplies for the British forces."

These voluntary contributions should "be financed by the people of Canada as a whole, through the Federal Government," the resolution continues.

AID REQUIRED
"Canada should in general pursue a policy of sharing so far as possible the heavy burden which the people of Great Britain assume in defending the British Commonwealth against German aggression," it reads.

Copies of the resolution are also being sent to the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, boards of trade of principal Canadian cities and all trade boards in British Columbia.

"It appears that at the outset of this struggle Canada's main contribution must be in readily available resources rather than in men and equipment," a preamble to the resolution states.

Fights Fifteen Nazi Planes to Complete Flight Over Germany

Four of Five British Machines Shot Down in Air Battle—Two Enemy Fighters Destroyed—Surviving Craft Riddled With Bullet Holes

LONDON, Oct. 2 (AP)—A drama of the skies in which a squadron leader single-handedly fought fifteen enemy planes after they sent down four of his reconnaissance patrol deep over German territory was told last night by the Ministry of Information.

The lone British plane, determined to complete the scouting mission on which it was sent, brought down two of the German craft and, although riddled with eighty-nine bullet holes, succeeded in returning to the British lines, the Information Ministry's communique said.

Three of the original patrol of five planes were sent down and the fourth made a forced landing.

"An order had been given for an R.A.F. patrol to reconnoitre a particular position behind the German line in the most strongly defended part of the Saar," the communique said.

"Anti-aircraft batteries put up a fierce barrage, but our aircraft went through it successfully. When well over the frontier at a height of over 20,000 feet the squadron leader sighted the enemy. Out from behind a bank of clouds came nine Messerschmitt fighters. They approached from directly overhead, flying 2,000 feet higher.

"Away on the right another six swooped to attack. Reconnaissance was the work to be done. Nothing must stop it. The formation flew on.

"The moment the fight started, the enemy tactics were revealed. Breaking formation, the Germans concentrated mass fire on each British machine in turn. Their method was to wheel, dive and come up under the tail of our aircraft.

ESCAPE BY PARACHUTE

"The intense fighting lasted for thirty-five minutes. Three of our machines were shot down—another made a forced landing, but got away from the concentrated enemy fire, he held his course and finished the reconnaissance while keeping up a steady fire.

"The squadron leader alone was left, but he flew on just the same to finish his job. Dodging, side-slipping, and banking to get away from the concentrated enemy fire, he held his course and finished the reconnaissance while keeping up a steady fire.

"His stream of bullets hit the engine of the leading Messerschmitt. The enemy machine swerved and, in a second burst into flames and plunged to earth. Keeping up his fire, the gunner landed another burst into a second fighter. With black smoke pouring from the nose, it went down in a spin.

"Two hundred and fifty-nine rounds of ammunition had accounted for the enemy losses. The thirteen remaining Germans gave up the fight.

NAVIGATOR WOUNDED

"The navigator, the third member of the crew, kept his pilot on the homeward course, though his instruments were smashed and he himself was wounded in the forehead.

"The airplane by this time was in a sorry way. There were eighty-nine bullet holes in the fabric—the ailerons and rudder were damaged. Both the petrol tanks were burst and flooding the inside of the fuselage with petrol and fumes.

"As it crossed the frontier, the engine failed. From the starboard tank petrol poured through the bullet hole each time the aircraft banked. Stopping up the hole with a handkerchief, the pilot was able to save enough to get home.

"The landing had to be faced with the engine jammed. It was half-way open and the offside tire was shot away.

PLANE CATCHES FIRE

"As the machine touched ground, it spun in a circle, cartwheeling over on one wing and caught fire. The navigator was flung out on his head with his clothes on fire.

"The gunner was jammed inside, but, without a thought for his own safety, the navigator hauled him out and smothered his blazing coat with his bare hands."

Tenative, arrived with Munster. The central airport was decorated with Soviet and Latvian flags for the arrivals.

Participating in tonight's conversations were Stalin, Vyacheslav Molotov, Premier and Foreign Minister, Vladimir Potemkin, Vice-Commissar for Foreign Affairs; Zolotov, Munster and M. Kocins, the Latvian Minister to Moscow.

The reception for the Latvians was markedly different, however, from that which greeted Joachim von Ribbentrop, German Foreign Minister, last week. There were no Latvian banners, no guards of honor, no brass bands. Vladimir Potemkin, Vice-Commissar of Foreign Affairs, who usually extends official greetings, was absent.

LITHUANIAN LEAVES

It was reported unofficially that the Lithuanian Minister to Moscow, Dr. Jrgis Baltusaitis, left here for home, and that the Lithuanian Foreign Minister would be summoned to the Soviet capital after dealings with Latvia had been concluded.

In Berlin the German news agency reported from Kaunas that Foreign Minister Juozas Urbysas of Lithuania would follow the Ministers of Estonia and Latvia to Moscow for conversations on the changing Baltic line-up. It says Urbysas is expected to go to Moscow by plane tomorrow on invitation of Moscow. The Lithuanian Cabinet was in session again Monday.

Reports from abroad that Russia had shifted twenty divisions of troops from the Estonian border to the Latvian frontier were not confirmed here.

It was understood, further, that Ambassador Sir William Seeds of Great Britain and the French Counsellor, Jean Payart, again called on the Turkish delegation today.

EXPECTED DEMANDS

Diplomatic circles took it for granted that the Soviet Russian Government would make demands upon Latvia similar to those which resulted in her neighbor, Estonia, granting Russia increased trade concessions and the right to establish naval and air bases on two Estonian islands and at one port.

May Cancel Egg-Laying Contests

AGASSIZ, Oct. 2 (AP)—The nineteenth annual egg-laying contest at the Dominion Experimental Farm will wind up here on October 23, and prospects are that it will be the last for some time.

While the closing of the contest is partly a wartime measure to effect saving, the reduced number of applications to enter birds in the 1939-40 contest is a second factor.

The present contest is the only one being held between Vancouver and Ottawa.

RECOGNIZES POLAND

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Mexican Government emphasized tonight it would "not recognize for any reason conquests obtained by force," and therefore would continue its present friendly relations with diplomatic representatives of Poland.

The Polish Legation here denied rumors the German Legation had asked delivery of its archives, and said the Government of Poland remains fully constituted.

PIANIST GIVES FINE RECITAL

Arthur Benjamin Applauded At Opening of Musical Art Season

A versatile and erudite musician, with a buoyant personality and an exuberant, dynamic, and vivid style of playing is Arthur Benjamin, the distinguished Australian pianist, who last night at the Empress Hotel, opened the Victoria Musical Art Society's 1939-1940 season with a recital that evoked tremendous applause from the audience of about five hundred.

Mr. Benjamin is no stranger to Victoria, having won much popularity here in his role of adjudicator at music festivals on two or three occasions. He last night demonstrated that he is no mere armchair critic, but can demonstrate in magnificent manner all the principles of pianism that come before him. While his readings last night had spontaneous facility, they showed most searching examination of the inner content of all compositions in his exacting programme, and thus had the combined interest of scholarly musicianship and exceptional virtuosity.

All the finest qualities of his art came into play in the great Beethoven Sonata in F Minor, Op. 57, "Appassionata," to which he gave heroic architectural dimension. His glorious command of dynamics and tonal variation made it possible for him to adopt and sustain the nobility of line through all the movements, Allegro Assai, Andante con Moto, and Allegro ma non troppo. It was an altogether memorable reading, confident, authoritative, profound in mood, extremely moving in effect.

EARLIER CLASSIC

The recital opened with a set of earlier classics, Scarlatti's three sonatas in D, F and C, which were vigorous had clarity, crispness, and a sparkling attractiveness. Schumann's "Dream Visions" and Introspective "At Eventide," from the Fantasy "Flores" (Op. 12), and the brilliant "Toccata" (Op. 7) formed the opening group. The Beethoven work constituted the second, and three Chopin numbers were the third group. An essentially masculine interpretation was given to all these numbers. Mr. Benjamin has the palette for Chopin, also an understanding of the use of rubato. The Fantasy in F Minor was brilliant and showed clever pedalling; the melody of the Nocturne in D Flat major had a penal mood and charm; and a thoroughly dynamic reading was given the great Polonaise in A Flat Major.

For his last group the pianist happily contributed two of his own compositions, a quiet "Siciliano," with a showy "Scherzino," brilliantly played and spontaneously applauded by the audience. Other numbers in this group were the semi-protege Debussy "Masques" and the Liszt "Tarentella," played with dazzling fluency. Encores during the programme included a Viennese Waltz arranged by Johannes Strauss, and Moszkowski's "Eucelle."

B.C. Liquor Board Increases Price of Beer Sold in Bulk

THE British Columbia Liquor Control Board raised the price of draught beer in barrels from $22.50 to $25 yesterday, with an upward revision likewise of 15 cents per dozen bottled pints. W. F. Kennedy, liquor commissioner, explained the increases were made as a result of Federal excise and other taxes, which amounted, he said, to $2.70 per barrel. British Columbia brewers are to meet on the Mainland to consider the new situation, the board was advised. Spirituous liquor prices have already been increased by the board.

DEATH TAKES HIGH CLERIC

Cardinal Mundelein Dies Suddenly—Had Extraordinary Career in Church

CHICAGO, Oct. 2 (AP)—Death today ended the extraordinary career of George Cardinal Mundelein, first prince of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States West.

The churchman, spiritual leader of more than a million of the faithful and administrator of one of the largest and wealthiest dioceses in the world, succumbed to coronary thrombosis in bed in his residence in suburban Mundelein.

REGRETTED BY MANY

His unexpected death—he was sixty-seven and apparently had enjoyed good health—evoked expressions of regret from outstanding contemporaries in civil and religious life.

The cardinal's body will lie in state in Holy Name Cathedral from tomorrow night until the funeral mass at 10:30 a.m. Monday. More than a hundred bishops were expected to participate in the services and to attend communal rites at a special crypt behind the altar of the chapel at St. Mary of the Lake Seminary in Mundelein.

Rev. Bernard J. Shell, senior auxiliary Bishop of Chicago, will rule the archdiocese until the diocesan consultors meet tomorrow to elect a temporary regent to take over the duties until the Pope names a successor.

QUIET BUT STRONG

Thousands knew George William Mundelein as a quiet man of placid mien but one capable of strong speech. He stirred two continents in 1937 when he challenged Nazi versions of immorality in Catholic institutions, condemned Germany's "crooked Ministry of Propaganda" and characterized Adolf Hitler as "an Austrian paperhanger and poor one at that."

Reich officials called for a reprimand. Pope Pius XI praised Mundelein as a "courageous" defender of the faith.

In 1938 the cardinal in a one-sentence broadcast statement maintained Father Charles E. Coughlin had the right to "express his personal views" but was "not authorized to speak for the Catholic Church."

MANY MONUMENTS

He left multiple monuments. Chief of these was the $15,000,000 seminary forty miles northeast of Chicago. About it grew the village bearing the cardinal's name.

During his stewardship more than six hundred structures were built—churches, convents, hospitals, orphanages. Established were the Catholic charities, the "big brothers" movement to guide errant boys, the Catholic Youth Organization.

MAY POST GUARDS

He was authorized to place guards aboard merchant vessels of the United States. He was to be in good faith and without a resale.

8. Shall not permit armed merchant vessels in their ports to carry more than four six-inch cannons on the prow. Such vessels shall not have reinforced sides or other equipment for offense.

10. May exclude belligerent submarines or admit them under the condition they enter aloft flying their flag.

This last point was in accordance with the Argentine viewpoint. The United States had proposed that they be barred from American ports.

Another resolution approved provided that the neutrality committee should study the question of contraband lists. It expressed opposition to inclusion of contraband lists of foodstuffs, clothing and articles intended for civil populations of belligerents.

EXTENT OF SAFETY ZONE

The "safety zone" for shipping excludes the territorial waters of foreign possessions in the Americas. Obituary

HAYWOOD—There passed away Sunday morning at the family residence, 1111 Oscar Street, Meakin Haywood, at the age of seventy-one years. Mr. Haywood was born at Dale Abbey, Northamptonshire, England, and moved to this city twelve years ago from Borden, Saskatchewan. ## A PEACE ULTIMATUM!

Before the present week is over the series of diplomatic moves engineered by Power Politics will, for the time being, be finished in Eastern Europe. Presumably there will be a Balkan boom over which Germany, Italy and Russia will exercise, by way of threat, a domination which will compel the States included in the hangman's Reich. Russia will have completed her hold on Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, and thereby will share with Germany naval domination in the Baltic. Moscow, too, may have secured Turkish neutrality if Russia is drawn into the war.

These moves are supposed to be precedent to a peace ultimatum from Germany, which Herr Hitler will voice in a speech to the Reichstag before many days have passed. The ultimatum will be in the form of a threat of what will happen if Great Britain and France are determined to continue the war, and it will be based on the new alignment in Eastern Europe. In the allied democracies it will be evaluated as a threat and as one to which no official answer will be given, unless, indeed, statements are made to their own people by the Governments concerned. Italy cannot mediate, because she is a party of the Rome-Berlin axis. Any suggested conference of the Powers to mediate on Herr Hitler's terms would be tantamount to asking Great Britain and France to put their necks in the hangman's noose of which the end would be held by the Soviet-German alliance. There can only be peace on the basis of the restoration of the status quo in Europe that maintained a year ago today.

The refusal of the so-called ultimatum, or of any other peace overtures, is contemplated as the prelude of a lightning blow by German arms. That blow will probably be but an incident of frightfulness, and the civilian populations of Great Britain and France are being warned to redouble their vigilance. There is full awareness of the possibility of the violation of neutral States by Germany in attempting an invasion of France. There is readiness to meet this eventually. There is also awareness as to chances for any naval demonstration in the North Sea on the part of the enemy. The Allies cannot visualize any lightning blow on the part of Germany that can constitute more than an incident of war, that would have no bearing on its ultimate issue. The war will proceed to its appointed ends, whatever may be the outcome of the diplomatic moves on the chessboard of Europe.

AMERICAN NEUTRALITY

For the next few weeks the Americans will consider neutrality in all its moods and tenses, and decide upon the best means of keeping the United States out of the war. Many Americans are said to believe that, in spite of all that can be done to prevent the catastrophe, America will, sooner or later, be drawn into the conflict. Others are as firmly of opinion that they can keep out, that it will always be to their true interest to keep out, and that in the words of an outstanding isolationist they are not interested in the boundary lines between European countries.

There are two conflicting opinions in the United States today as to the wisdom of their entry into the Great War in April, 1917. The twenty-one years that have elapsed since the close of that struggle have seen the rise of something like a national legend. Some Americans now look back to the Great War days through a romantic haze. They are apt to remind themselves that the people of the United States, in response to appeals from sister democracies, so the story runs, took up arms to make the world safe for democracy. Such was their purpose, but they were disappointed and disillusioned. They now think that the idealism which took them into the war to end war was not appreciated to its true value. They suspect that the war had really been brought about by the inveterate quarrels of nations and races of the Old World, and was conducted by statesmen who were unable to appreciate the enlightened political morality of the New. They are now inclined to think that they should not have gone into the war. It was not their war. They went into help the Allies. They fought faithfully and with decisive effect on the side of the Allies, and when the war was over they withdrew from Europe, resolving that never again would they become entangled in European quarrels. Such, in broad outline, is the opinion held by many Americans today.

In some respects, however, this view is not quite the same as that which was expressed by President Wilson at the time. The official record says that the President advised "that the Congress declare the recent course of the Imperial German Government to be in fact nothing less than war against the Government and people of the United States." Four days later, by a majority of 373 votes to 50, the House of Representatives passed the resolution in these words: "Whereas, the Imperial German Government have committed repeated acts of war against the Government and the people of the United States. Therefore, be it resolved, that a state of war between the United States and the Imperial German Government, which has been thrust upon the United States, is hereby formally declared." Clearly, the action of the President and of Congress is not to be understood merely in the light of a gesture of friendliness to the Allies. The American action was, indeed, warmly welcomed by the Allies. At the same time the record goes to show that it was intended primarily to meet a pressing national danger.

The speech of Mr. Foster of Illinois, quoted in the Nelson's History of the War, succinctly indicates the predominant attitude towards Germany. "As a reward for our neutrality what have we received at the hands of William II? He has set the torch of the incendiary to our factories, our workshops, our ships, and our wharves. He has sought to corrupt our manhood with a selfish dream of peace when there is no peace. He has willfully butchered our citizens on the high seas. He has destroyed our commerce. He seeks to terrorize us with his devilish policy of frightfulness. He has violated every canon of international decency, and set at naught every solemn treaty and every precept of international law. He has plunged the world into the maddest orgy of blood, rapine, and murder which history records. He has intrigued against our peace at home and abroad. He seeks to destroy our civilization. Patience is no longer a virtue, further endurance is cowardice, submission to Prussian demands is slavery."

The other day Mr. Roosevelt sent a message to Congress inviting Americans of both political parties to unite in a national effort to keep the United States out of this war. American sentiment is unmistakably on the right side in the present conflict. Very few Americans would like to see Herr Hitler victorious. The British Empire and the French have the moral support of our great neighbor. This moral support, as everyone knows, is a factor of great importance. Officially, the United States is neutral and officially it is shaping its policies with a view of keeping out of war. Privately, however, American citizens are far from neutral in their feelings.

As a consequence, the Americans have an important decision to make. Mr. Roosevelt has pointed out that, under the legislation now in effect, they might find themselves giving aid to an aggressor and denying it to the victim of aggression. He also reminded them of what he said in January. "We know what might happen to us of the United States if the new philosophies of force were to encompass the other continents and invade our own." Perhaps his unspoken thought was that Congress might well consider the wisdom of giving Great Britain and France the chance to supply themselves with the means of carrying on the war, if only for the good and sufficient reason that if Great Britain and France go down in the struggle any hope that the United States could keep out of war would be completely shattered.

NAZISM AT WAR

Speaking as an eyewitness, and presumably as an impartial one, as he is the Ambassador of a neutral State, Mr. Biddle, who represented the United States in Poland, has been describing what happened there during the German advance. He estimates that the Nazi Air Force employed numbered 5,000 planes, divided into two shifts incessantly in action and spreading death and destruction irrespective of whether the targets had any military significance. "It is clear," said the Ambassador, "that the Germans had planned to demoralize the Polish troops by spreading terror throughout the civilian population. Whenever they saw automobiles on the highways, they swept down and machine-gunned them." He speaks of having witnessed such attacks, and alludes to them as "barbarous tactics."

The character of the warfare in Poland has given a prime illustration of the ruthless character of Hitlerism, and lends emphasis to the need for the destruction of that political conception. A German official communiqué, explaining why Warsaw was able to hold out so long said it was due exclusively "to the willing forbearance of our troops and our consideration for the Polish civilian population." The answer to this is found in the destruction in the Polish capital, where women and children were indiscriminately slaughtered, where churches were destroyed, hospitals full of wounded wailed out, and more than half the city reduced to ruins. Humanely, once Nazism went to war, got swift notice of the inhumanity of Nazi methods. They have been set forth by a neutral observer, and yet no protest has come from any neutral source.

"THE WORLD WILL RISE"

We repeat: the world will rise round Hitler and crush him. If he continues to pursue the course that he has begun, the very winds and waves will convey the baseness of his treachery against the world's enemies to all mankind, and there will be no neutrals in the conflict that will ensue. From "Greenland's icy mountains" to "India's coral strand" will come the martial strains of marching men, all resolved to end the career of a man whose ethics, or lack of ethics, would be shameful in a wild beast.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Note and Comment

BY SANDHAM GRAVES

The Nineteenth Legislature is breaking with tradition. It is having Page boys actually measured for their uniforms; instead of choosing the boys to fit uniforms taken, pressed and somewhat moth-balled, from the capacious cupboards of the Sergeant-at-Arms. In a word, a tailor is measuring a complete set of nine new uniforms; which will be dark blue and red, in place of light blue and red as were their four-year-old predecessors. In short, the last two sessions of the Nineteenth Legislature, and the first two sessions of the twentieth were too much for uniforms, which, in those premises, used to last for nine years; or until the smallest boy had grown into the largest uniform, and there-by become a Sergeant Page, with three yellow stripes on his right sleeve. By the way, before the session, the empty uniforms were to be paraded solemnly before the Sergeant-at-Arms; whose critical eye would memorize the sizes of the uniforms, and so help later in selecting the sizes of the boys. The suggestion means by which the cultivation of tourist trade could be assisted, the speaker suggested courteous treatment of visitors, and the giving of any information to aid them; co-operation in keeping the city clean and attractive; aiding in preserving fish and game life; supporting the Publicity Bureau; and acting as a selling agent of the city, the Island and the province in letters to friends outside.

It so happens that the age of a Page coincides with the growing age of boy; and that not even late hours, artificial lighting, or other made-to-order circumstances arrest alarming symptoms of growth in a completely uniformed Page. Oh, he will start the session all right. His uniform, of a certainty, will fit them. The tailors at Vancouver Island, he had as surely as could be desired. The neat red stripe down the side of the trousers will be correctly in place at all times. The buttons will shine, expansively, from a proud chest; with sleeves, cuffs and all, arriving at their current destinations, and also stopping at all this may be conceded out of hand. But wait. Let a week of the session go by, and there will be a suspicious shortening of the sleeves; an elongation of the wrists; a tendency in the cuffs at the trousers; and a general air of being a bit out of hand. All this may be conceded out of hand. But wait. Let a week of the session go by, and there will be a suspicious shortening of the sleeves; an elongation of the wrists; a tendency in the cuffs at the trousers; and a general air of being a bit out of hand.

On the whole, perhaps, the Nineteenth Legislature may not be breaking with tradition, so much as arranging that for once the Chapter of Pages and their embossing and blinding will approximately fit. For the opening day of the session, at all events, that may be true. There will be the nine "old" boys and nine new uniforms. There will be the Sergeant-at-Arms, lulled for once into a sense of false sense of security. There will be the great blue carpet, buttonless. Come what may, and there thereafter, it will be worth it. Only next year someone will have to find nine new boys to fit nine old uniforms. There is no beating the system. It is a tailor-tight contest: boys against cloth, time against the Sergeant-at-Arms, bare wrist against cuff sleeve, taxes against everyone!

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Colonist of October 3, 1889

Two Eminent Astronomers—Last evening two eminent astronomers, Professors J. M. Schaeberle and Burnham, of the great Lick Observatory, passed through the city on their way to Cayenne, French America, for the purpose of observing the solar eclipse there. Professor Schaeberle made his debut in the astronomical world by his discovery of comets, while Professor Burnham is the great authority on double stars. They are two men of whom America may well feel proud, and the Lick Observatory is fortunate in possessing. During their few hours' stay here they were entertained by Otto J. Klotz, astronomer for the Department of the Interior.

Wedding Solemnized—Last evening, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. George North, Johnson Street, Mr. William Duck, son of Mr. Simon Duck, M.P.P., was united in marriage to Miss Ada North, R. Rev. Bishop Cridge performing the happy ceremony. Only the relatives of the bride and groom and a very few invited friends were present to see the happy knot tied. Mr. and Mrs. Duck are two of Victoria's most popular young people.

The Mary Ellen—News has been received of the arrival at San Francisco of the sailing schooner Mary Ellen, Captain Alex. McLean. The amount of the catch is not stated, but it is known to be large. The skins have been sold to a San Francisco furrier.

ASKS ACTIVE TOURIST WORK

G. I. Warren Tells Gyro Club Increase in Travel This Way Expected

While the duty was cast upon Canada, in coming with other parts of the British Empire, to see that the war now in hand was brought to a successful ending, George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, expresses the idea that in fostering the tourist trade with this attractive province, aid was being given to the Empire.

He pointed out at the luncheon meeting of the Gyro Club in the Empress Hotel yesterday that Amalgamated, owing to the war conditions, would be cut off in large measure from visits to Europe, and there was the opportunity of diverting travel in this direction, thus serving the interests of the country and Empire.

Suggesting means by which the cultivation of tourist trade could be assisted, the speaker suggested courteous treatment of visitors, and the giving of any information to aid them; co-operation in keeping the city clean and attractive; aiding in preserving fish and game life; supporting the Publicity Bureau; and acting as a selling agent of the city, the Island and the province in letters to friends outside.

IMPRESS VISITORS

Tourists should upon leaving the province be so impressed that they will want to return. There was a very large tourist class in the United States that would not be going to Europe this year and the opportunity existed to induce them to come here.

The population of 760,000 in British Columbia had a tremendous task in providing for the needs of other necessary undertakings. He stated the cost of keeping up the roads and other necessary utilities and interest charges alone—last year amounted to $6,970,000.

At Vancouver Island was paid to the speaker, with its 7,000 miles of sea coast, including the inlets and bays. The great game and fish preserves should be kept in shape to attract thousands of visitors each year.

Praise was given the Travel Bureau, instituted a year ago, and in this connection he referred to the many attractions in other parts of the Province.

"If I'd known you were so extravagant I would never have married you."

"If I hadn't been, father would never have let you."

From a defender's point of view it is highly annoying to be thrown on head and forced to make a return that benefits the declarer. Usually, however, said defender can console himself with the thought that there was no escaping the trap sprung on him. When, however, the trapping is done by his own partner, even that consolation is lacking.

When, on the second round, North raised the clubs South was considerably embarrassed for another bid. Of course he thought about passing, but with his solid club suit, two potential diamond tricks, and two free bids from partner, felt that there must be a play for game somewhere. Since five-odd in a minor suit seemed a bit high to reach, he preferred to chance a heart stopper in North's hand and play the contract in no trump.

Only Psychology

Encountering a school trustee of an adjoining municipality, a fond parent went into a long song and dance to explain that he thought his son was not being treated right by his class teacher. "I am sure that you will look into the matter," Trustee John Joe," he urged. "It will be attended to." "Mr. Smith," the trustee replied. Several weeks later when the trustee had forgotten the request, he met the parent in a jovial mood. "Thank you very much for attending to my complaint. My son is now getting along much better with his teacher," he remarked. "Don't mention it. I am glad to be of service to you at any time."

Trustee answered, "I must have been pure psychology. I forgot all about the blooming complaint," he muttered to himself as he walked away. . . . A news item stated that Joseph Milner, Calgary, claimed to be the first Canadian to enlist at the outbreak of war on August 3, 1914. Members of the 88th Victoria Fusiliers were called for active duty on August 3, 1914, two days before the war was declared. Fusiliers who survived overseas service are naturally proud of their record which stands unchallenged throughout Canada.

A FAIR SAMPLE

A visitor to New York asked a newsboy to lend him to a certain bank, promising him fifty cents. The boy took him about three doors away from where he was, standing, and there was the bank. Paying the fifty cents, the visitor remarked, "That was money easily earned, sir."

"Sure, sir," answered the boy, "but you must remember that bank directors get good pay in New York."

B.C. MEN CITED FOR GALLANTRY

Medals and Parchments Are Awarded by Royal Humane Association

HAMILTON, Oct. 2 (P)—John Anderson and James McK. Morrison, of Vancouver, have been awarded Royal Canadian Humane Association bronze medals for gallantry. The association has also awarded a parchment certificate to Phillip Teece, Pender Island, B.C., for rescuing Arthur Nobbs and Norman Georgeson from drowning at Ganges, B.C., July 1.

In an effort to rescue Thomas Graham and his son Frederick, who had been overcome by gas and fallen to the bottom of a well at Clivedale, Anderson descended the gas-filled well, seventy-five feet deep. He discovered the men were dead and made two further descents before he recovered the bodies. His courageous act was performed July 25, 1938.

Morrison jumped from the ferry boat West Vancouver to rescue Oskar Erickson from drowning in Burrard Inlet, December 13, 1938. He supported Erickson and ultimately got him to the ferry boat where he applied artificial respiration. Boats had been launched from the ferry, but it was found impossible to get the men aboard the small craft owing to the heavy sea.

A parchment certificate was also awarded to a Saskatchewan girl, Ruth Lillian Wotton, of Wapella, for rescuing a drowning man, Eleanora Carson from drowning in the Wapella Dam, April 13.

FIRE PRECAUTIONS FOR CITY DEBATED

Fire precautions in the event of war agencies were discussed by the Greater Victoria Civilian Protection Committee at the City Hall yesterday morning. Mayor Andrew McAvin promised to ascertain if the City Council would allow the fire department to proceed outside city limits to other municipalities if an emergency arose.

Councillor William Ellis reported that units of ten men and a warden would be placed in specified districts of Greater Victoria in the event of an air raid.

Those present at the meeting were: Reeves Alex Lockley, Esq.; R. R. Taylor, Oak Bay, and G. G. Lambrick, Saanich; Mayor S. M.

MEMBERSHIP ROLL GROWS

Y.M.C.A. Campaign Divisions Conclude Successful Four-Day Drive

Highly satisfactory figures for the four-day membership drive conducted by the Y.M.C.A. were noted when final reports were presented by the three campaign divisions at a supper meeting last night, under the chairmanship of E. G. Rowbottom, campaign director.

Though the meeting marked the close of the campaign, it is expected that additional membership cards will be returned during the next few days, and it is hoped that the total roll, of the association will be brought up to about three thousand, an increase of approximately five hundred members. The drive has been the shortest on record and the results, though not equal to those of last year, are regarded as excellent, in view of the fact that last year's drive was the first held for two years.

FINAL TOTALS
At last night's meeting the red division (Major S. J. D. Clark) added thirteen memberships, valued at $191.50, to its previous total; the white division (Major G. Paterson), seven, valued at $40, and the blue division (Major W. W. Martin), eight, valued at $80.

Final figures reported by the three divisions were: Red, ninety-four memberships, valued at $1,055; white, 115, $595; blue, eighty-eight, $858.50.

Recipients of campaign honors yesterday were Captain Sam Hill, who won the pennant for the highest team report, and Major Clark, who received the orchids for the highest divisional report.

An interesting discussion took place and several suggestions were made for next year's campaign.

"Where's the jelly, Bridget?"

"Why, you told me it was moulded, so I threw the stuff away."

Babies and children need Vitamin D if they are to have straight bones, sound teeth. The extra Vitamin in Irradiated Carnation costs you nothing—why accept a milk without it?

Pheasant Season Rearranged For Island Districts

AMENDING game regulations announced in Summer, the Provincial Government yesterday fixed an open season on cock pheasants between October 14 and 31, inclusive, in Salt Spring Island, Pender Island and parts of Alberni-Nanaimo riding south and west of the Cameron River. The limited open season replaces a closed season in most of that area last year, it was explained.

NEW DITTY SONG IN LONDON CLUBS

"We're Going to Hang Out the Washing on the Siegfried Line"

LONDON, Oct. 2 (CP).—The catchy little ditty "We're Going to Hang Out the Washing on the Siegfried Line," was piped up in London night clubs and music halls during the week-end as the first candidate to succeed "Tipperary."

With a tune somewhat reminiscent of "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag," the words of the chorus go like this:

We're going to hang out the washing on the Siegfried Line.
Have you any dirty washing, mother dear?

We're going to hang out the washing on the Siegfried Line.
'Cos the washing day may be wet or fine.

We'll just rub along without a care.

We're going to hang out the washing on the Siegfried Line.
If the Siegfried Line's still there.

At one music hall the chorus was printed on a sheet hung on a clothes-line with "unmentionables" bearing the names of Hitler and various German leaders, and the audience joined in singing the song half a dozen times.

The song was written by Jimmy Kennedy and Michael Carr, both of Irish extraction.

Oil Owned by Ten Companies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP).—The monopoly investigating committee heard today that ten companies, headed by Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, own half of the gross proved oil reserve in the United States.

The witness, E. Degolyer, of Dallas, Texas, said, however, that these large companies accounted for only 36.8 of gross production of oil in the United States. He remarked that he did not know whether this was "by force of circumstances or design." He did not name the ten companies.

Want Record Of Canadians Now Enlisted

The overseas record committee of the Canadian Red Cross are desirous of obtaining a complete record of resident Canadians who have enlisted in the British or Allied forces. The purpose of this record is not only to keep in touch with the overseas man himself, so that he may benefit from Red Cross service from time to time, but also to inform dependents left in this country (particularly in Victoria and district) of his whereabouts, and to be able to give assistance to such dependents, if required.

TAXATION FIGURES SHOW AN INCREASE

Collection of current taxes from January 2 to September 30 totaled $1,035,903.25, an increase of $19,636.57 above the $1,016,266.68 on hand at the end of September in 1938. Mayor Andrew McGavin announced yesterday.

On account of taxes in arrears, $190,270.44 had been paid in at the end of September, a decrease of $18,492.50 under the $208,763 collected from January to September last year.

Little Stories for Bedtime

Slow Poke Gives Peter a Fright

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Peter Rabbit and Slow Poke the Box Turtle were dining together on the Green Meadows close to the edge of the Green Forest. Peter was feeling pretty well acquainted with Slow Poke by this time. As they ate they talked, which you know is a way people have of doing.

"There is one thing about it," said Peter, "and that is that while you are not afraid of anybody or anything, you on your part cannot scare anybody." "I mean you can't scare anybody who knows you," he added as he popped into his head that folks who had never seen Slow Poke might be a little afraid of him just because of his queer looks.

Slow Poke chuckled. "How about yourself, Peter," said he. "Who is afraid of you?"

"I don't suppose," said he, "that anybody is afraid of me. But just the same I can scare people when I want to. I mean I can scare them for as long as it takes for them to find me out. There's Danny Meadow Mouse over there. Just you watch me scare him."

Slow Poke looked and sure enough there was Danny Meadow Mouse reaching out for a ripe strawberry and slowly ate it. You see he eats as he does everything else, very slowly. Presently Peter sat down with his back to him. Something very much like mischief crept into Slow Poke's eyes. He drew a long breath and then let the air out with a long, loud sharp hiss. Peter Rabbit jumped straight into the air. Then he gave two or three long bounds off to one side and there sat up very straight with such a funny anxious look on his face as he stared this way and that way. Slow Poke chuckled down inside.

"What's the matter, Peter?" he asked.

"Didn't you hear that Snake?" asked Peter.

"No," replied Slow Poke. And then as Peter's head was turned he hissed again. Once more Peter jumped. It was very plain that Peter was nervous.

"Are you afraid of Snakes?" asked Slow Poke.

"No—no," replied Peter slowly. "That is, I'm not afraid of most of them. Of course, I'm afraid of Buzz-tail the Rattler, and the trouble is they all hiss so much like that when I hear one I never can be sure which it is until I see him."

Once more Peter began to look this way and that way anxiously.

Slow Poke began to chuckle even more than before Peter heard him. "What are you chuckling about?" he demanded. "What's the joke?"

"The joke is," replied Slow Poke, "that there is no Snake that I know of about here. I was just showing you that I can scare other people quite as easily as you can."

With this Slow Poke hissed again. Then Peter understood and you can imagine how foolish he felt and looked.

A Strange Spanish Customer Appears En Route to Rio

By Spy

At nine that evening a tug snuffed up to the Seylla's bows, then picked up a low-rope, and began easing her, again, to sea. I watched lights twinkling and dwindling for a while, then went below to find out what, if anything, had transpired during the day.

Apparently quite a lot. Owing to the strike, hundreds of people had been forced to cancel sailings on various boats, so now scores of unanticipated passengers had boarded the Seylla either for southern ports or Europe.

Consequently, accommodation was strained to grave degree, and in efforts to calm things, the purser, though still benign, was dashing up and down corridors with sweat-patting damplings from cap to crisp, white tunic.

For a while he was quite unattainable, but on finally catching up with him, it was at once very evident that there was something more than just new passengers upon his mellow mind. On meeting him, his habitually steadfast eyes shifted to his boots. He looked both moist and abashed, like a fat puppy that had been ripping hell out of the drawing-room cushions, and somehow I sensed that whatever his crime was, it concerned me very gravely.

"What's wrong?" I inquired without palaver.

"Ach, Herr Sprudel, Herr Sprudel," he exclaimed quite tragically. "The boat she is crowded, and I have had to put some other person in your cabin."

Blitz! There's nothing more irksome than sharing cabins with a stranger on any voyage, whether it be from Dover to Calais, or from Singapore to Dawson.

"You promised I'd be alone—also, a single cabin," I said firmly. I reminded him with accuracy.

"Blessed, Herr Sprudel! The boat is crowded. I could not help it," the purser deprecated, hang-faced.

"O.K.," I replied coldly. "What's the person like?"

"Oh, he is a nice young chap. A Spaniard. He speaks a little English, too," and with that the purser excused himself, and darted off to his quarters.

I felt very crestfallen. I loathed the idea of even finding anything dynamic than Donald Duck or Hitler to share my rightful privacy.

So thought of a strange young Spaniard was none too spurring. What was he? I wondered glumly. A bull-fighter, or a deported peanut-seller? What's the betting he wears a guitar and smells of garlic? Or a blast.

I felt very, very, very old.

Presently, on Nov. 11, I found him sleeping—a thin young man with heavy black hair sprawling over his pillow and fierce black whiskers peering his tallow chin.

For a few moments I watched his lips and nostrils twitching at the movements of his subconscious activities and thoughts, then went to bed.

With early morn I was practically inundated in an avalanche of broken English from my unbridled comrade—the Spanish usurper.

After cheerful salutations, plus fifteen minutes ensuing "small talk," he suddenly exclaimed:

"Vival! Vival! . . . And now we go fishing! . . . Yes, fishing . . . for a few moments I watched his lips and nostrils twitching at the movements of his subconscious activities and thoughts, then went to bed."

Assembling a huge rod, and said suddenly, "We go to stern and catch one great fish—yes?" "Impossible!" I nearly laughed in his face. "We're making twelve knots—better wait for flying fish further south." "No, no, no," the Spaniard contradicted. "Come, come. It is simple—you shall see." "Ridiculous," I countered. "Come, come," repeated this super-sportsman, poking his rod slantwise through the door and into the passage . . . so, as it seemed impossible to dissuade him, I trailed him to the stern.

There, for about half an hour, I patiently witnessed his absurdly optimistic manoeuvrings with rod and reel, while I'll swear I heard the fish hissing him in their sad, wet-silent way.

The affair was tragic. Repeatedly I begged this brave fellow to dissemble his rod and turn to table tennis or shuffle-board with the third officer, who was quite a zealot toward that specific game, but to no purpose. Finally I left; but four hours later, that naive colleague, faced young fisherman was still curved over the rail, with rod still dangling, and the smooth fish still hissing wetly . . . May God forgive him and his artless Spanish ways!

BY-ELECTION IS DECIDED UPON

Cranbrook Seat Will Be Filled in Time for Coming Session of House

Premier Pattullo announced yesterday that the Provincial Government would call a by-election in Cranbrook Riding in time to fill the vacancy in that seat at the session to open here on October 31.

"Oh, he is a nice young chap. A Spaniard. He speaks a little English, too," and with that the purser excused himself, and darted off to his quarters.

Gives Summary of National Council Meet at Hamilton

Mrs. Paul Smith, M.P.P., Reporting to Local Council of Women on Discussions in East, Urges Support of Voluntary Registration Project

AN able summary by Mrs. Paul Smith, M.P.P., of the resolutions, discussions, personalities, and general atmosphere of the annual meeting of the National Council of Women at Hamilton, Ontario, last June, was the highlight of yesterday's meeting of the Victoria Local Council held at the Y.W.C.A., Dr. Olga Jardine, the president, in the chair.

Some of the things done at that meeting, said the speaker, were almost prophetic in the light of what had happened since and the challenges made to women to assume their share of the responsibilities now confronting the nation. Miss Winnifred Kidd had offered a resolution expressing women's loyalty to the Empire and willingness to serve in any capacity. The meeting had also discussed the project for the national voluntary registration of women. While the members at first seemed leath to pass a resolution committing the council, this registration plan, Mrs. Smith thought, was definitely one in which the council should give leadership, and the president of the National had been named honorary president of the registration committee. In her reference to the subject the speaker emphasized that the object of registration was to make a census, for presentation to the Government at Ottawa, of the woman power of the country. In order to make this effective, all women should co-operate and make available the names and addresses of women and their quali-of elected officers only; the third, that nationally organized societies in affiliation with the National, where organized provincially should affiliate with the Provincial Council, and where organized locally should affiliate with their local council.

Victoria Local Council members expressed their satisfaction by applauding when Mrs. Smith reported that their president, Dr. Jardine, had been elected National vice-president.

EXPRESS SYMPATHY

Yesterday's meeting of the Local Council endorsed a resolution introduced by Mrs. Hugh Mackenzie and seconded by Mrs. J. S. Akins, by which they went on record as expressing their concern at the terrible disaster that had befallen Poland, and their sympathy with Polish women, a rider being added to the effect that so long as the condition existed that a state could use force, or threat of force, to violate territory or annex another state even our own existence was threatened.

The meeting endorsed with good majority, the action of the executive in sanctioning representation of the Local Council at the recent citizens' meeting. Dr. Jardine, who had attended, stated that the council had not committed itself to any action, but had merely contributed their views to the meeting.

The meeting requested the new food price control committee, of which Mrs. J. W. Gibson is convener, to carry on their work and inform the council from time to time of any unjust increase in prices. In thanking Mrs. Gibson and her associates for their splendid work to date, the president urged members to give all assistance possible by passing on valuable information.

NEED REVISION

The opinion was expressed by the speaker, following her reference to the occasional disagreements arising over constitutional matters, that there should be a revision of National Council laws every ten years. The meeting had not dealt much with future policies, but definitely "put their house in order."

Three resolutions had resulted from the meeting of presidents. One recommended that definite time and place be made on the agenda of the National Council annual meeting for the meeting of local presidents; and make available the names and addresses of women and their quali-

Expedition May Take Title To Territory East of Little America

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP).—The United States may abandon "Little America" in the Antarctic to British claims and take title instead to territory lying farther east.

Officials of a forthcoming Government expedition to the South Pole disclosed this possibility today. The party will embark from Boston early in November and reach south polar waters early next January.

Although the flagship North Star, under command of Rear-Admiral Richard Byrd, will proceed directly to the explorer's old base at "Little America," a permanent camp may be established east of this British-claimed territory, the officials said, between 70 degrees and 150 degrees west longitude.

That would put the American field in an area never before claimed by any nation, they explained, and would avoid possible conflict with rival British explorations.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 2 (CP).—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Williamson, who returned today from a visit to Great Britain, described how a British destroyer which convoyed their liner dropped depth bombs in an effort to destroy German U-boats shortly after they left Liverpool.

"We were just sitting down to dinner a few hours off Liverpool when they were a shock and the ship trembled from stem to stern," Williamson said. "We all felt it."

"We had about sixty Athenian passengers on board," he said. "They were sure that we had been struck by a torpedo."

"For a while we were not informed as to what had taken place. Then we heard that the convoy ship released depth charges against the U-boats."

Yankees Remain Choice to Down Cincinnati Reds

Joe McCarthy's Squad Is 1-to-3 Odds to Capture World Series From National League Winners—First Tussle to Be Staged Tomorrow at Yankee Stadium—Scalpers Started

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP).—The world series' pot reached boiling point today as Cincinnati Reds, National Baseball League pennant winners, rolled into town for the opening game Wednesday with New York Yankees, American League champions.

Some lingering doubt existed in the Yankees' camp over the pitching assignment for the first game, although signs pointed to complete recovery of Red Ruffing's sore arm, thereby sending the American League's top right-hander against Paul Derringer.

Indications were for the heaviest betting play-off yet since Yankees began their domination of the diamond in 1936. The boys apparently aren't afraid of the Yanks this time, even though the odds are 1-3 in favor of the titleholders.

Opinion was Reds could make a lot of trouble for the Yanks, going into the fray with their two top twirlers, Ruffing and Gomez, just recovering from ailments.

Dreary skies over Yankee Stadium, the scene of battle for the first two games Wednesday and Thursday, made workouts appear distasteful to both contenders today. The Yankees were content with holding a "skull session" in their clubhouse, while the Reds took the day off.

The Yankees announced the gates of the big Bronx ball park would be thrown open three and a half hours before "post time" Wednesday. A total of 34,000 unreserved seats in both bleachers and grandstand will be placed on sale Wednesday morning, and the Yankees, with all box seats already sold, saw possibilities of a turnout well over the previously expected 50,000.

Edmonton Grads Score 45-30 Win Over U.S. Squad

EDMONTON, Oct. 2 (AP).—Edmonton Grads trounced Wichita (Kansas) Thunder, 45-30, here tonight to take a 2-0 lead in the four-game series for the Underwood International Women's Basketball Trophy. The Grads won the first game on Saturday, 47-28. The series continues Wednesday.

BOXLA GAMES TO COMMENCE ON WEDNESDAY

Medicine Hat to Clash With St. Catharines or Elmwood Pats

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Oct. 2 (AP).—A bit shy on competition, but considered sound in every department, Medicine Hat Badmen are Alberta box lacrosse champions and will meet St. Catharines Athletics here October 4, providing the Eastern champions fulfill expectations by defeating the Manitoba champions, Winnipeg Elmwood Pats.

Athletics, holders of the Mann Cup, play a sudden-death game at Winnipeg tonight. After meeting Medicine Hat they are expected to continue to Vancouver for the Canadian championship series.

Badmen won the Alberta title last year and this year they were the only team to challenge for provincial honors. Their only experience this year has been exhibition contests.

Playing coach and star of the team is Al Woods, an import who played in the Pacific Coast League in 1937, located with Lethbridge Brackets last year and took up residence in Medicine Hat this Spring.

THE SPEARHEAD

Woods is the spearhead of one of the team's most flexible forward lines and Stan Long, a stand-out homebrew, pivots the other. Mickey Craven and Jim Bradshaw make the second string dangerous.

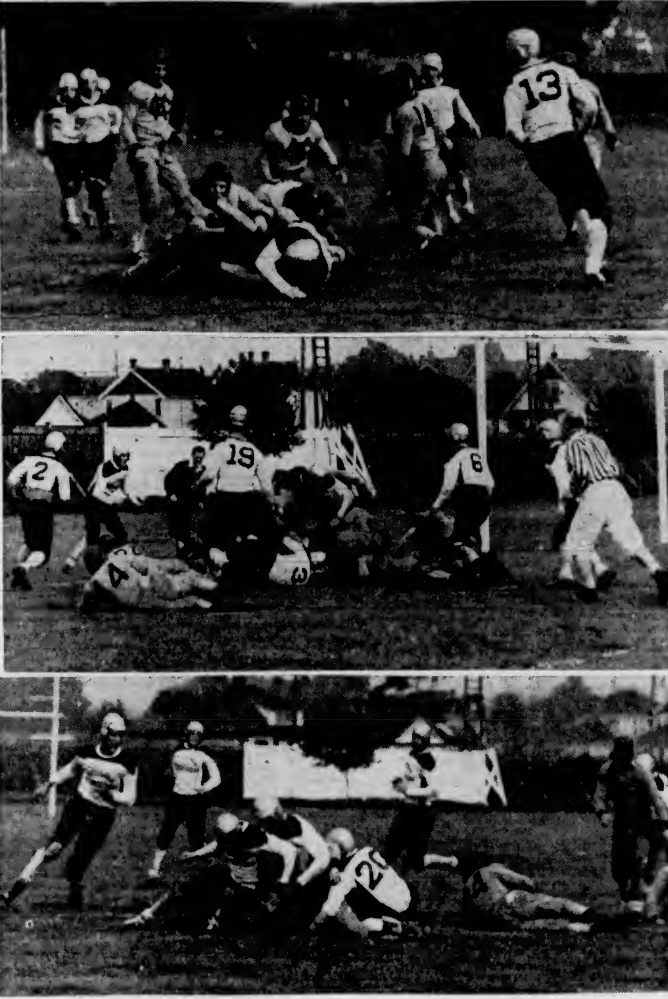

Backing the attacking section are Bill Lauder and Bill Robertson, hard workers who take turns at roving.

Rod Ashburner, a hefty 200-pounder, is the mainstay of the defense. With him are "Mac" McArthur, Herb Lucking and Pat Harrison, a pugilist who won the Canadian Legion Belt as the best amateur in Alberta's 1938 boxing tournament.

The real stumbling block for St. Kitts, however, is expected to be provided by Goalie Norman "Moore" Bannan, a netminder of outstanding ability. Bannan has enlisted, but is getting leave to play.

A cowboy actor objects to hugging and kissing scenes. They must be casting him with some wicked-faced leading women.

FILIPINO REGISTERS SURPRISE TRIUMPH OVER CALIFORNIAN

Referee Halts Bout After Two Minutes and Seven Seconds of the Seventh Round—Bolo Punch Proves Too Much for San Franciscan—Is Champion in Two States Only

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP).—Ceferino Garcia and his bolo punch, an extra special package of flistic dynamite, delivered a surprise triumph tonight by flattening the ex-San Francisco belhop in the seventh round of a battle before a howling crowd in Madison Square Garden.

Garcia, weighed 153½; Apostoli, 160.

A series of right-hand shots to the chin, the famed "bolo" blow Garcia learned while cutting cane in the sugar fields of his native Philippine Islands, proved too much for the smart boxer from Frisco, and Referee Billy Cavanaugh halted the contest at two minutes seven seconds of the seventh round with Apostoli on the floor for the third time. The fight was scheduled for fifteen rounds.

The victory gave Ceferino, who has won titles in California and New York, recognition as world's 160-pound king in New York State and California, the two places that "blessed" Apostoli's title claims. In all other states, Al Hostak, of Seattle, is the recognized champion.

Up to the seventh it was a free-wheeling, give-and-take battle, with Apostoli scoring heavily with a two-fisted body attack in close and Garcia biding his time to take potshots at openings with the bolo, a cross between a right uppercut and right hook.

A crowd of 11,464 contributed a gross gate of $35,433.83.

Alice Marble, Bromwich in Tennis Wins

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2 (AP).—John Bromwich, of Australia, won the United States Pacific Southwest tennis tournament singles championship today by defeating Frank Putter, of Yugoslavia, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2, 6-4.

Alice Marble, world's champion, became the new Pacific Southwest women's single champion by defeating Dorothy May Bundy, Santa Monica, the defending titleholder, 9-7, 6-1.

MANY CLUBS TO COMPETE

Eighty-Two Elevens to Play in Regional Circuit on October 21

LONDON, Oct. 2 (AP).—All but six of the eighty-eight clubs in the English League will resume competitive football on a regional basis, October 21. The teams will be divided into eight sections to operate with a minimum of travelling and other expenses.

Western and Northwest sections will play with twelve teams each, Northeast and East Midlands will each have eleven, and Midland and Southwest eight. The South has been divided into two divisions—"A" and "B"—each with ten teams.

Three First Division teams, Aston Villa, Sunderland and Derby County, have decided not to run teams, the other non-participants being Exeter City, Gateshead and Ipswich Town, of the Third Division.

Previous indications were that seven sections would start play October 14. Scottish League authorities announced a week ago that two regional leagues would open on October 14.

TWO HUNTERS KILLED

SEATTLE, Oct. 2 (AP).—Two men were killed Sunday as Washington hunters flocked to the woods on the opening day of the deer hunting season—John W. Martin, forty-three, of Seattle, and Peter Carolla, twenty-one, of Cle Elum.

TOASTED

"Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen," said the colonel. "I am asked to respond to the toast, 'Water, the purest creation of Providence.' My friends, I have seen water glisten in tiny beads on the sleeping lips of infancy. I have seen it trickle down the dimples of youth when soft lips yield to love's caress, and on the salted cheek of age. I have seen it drip like a shower of gems from the blades of grass on the resplendent dawn of a new day. I have seen it tumble down mountain sides in cascades as fierce as a bridal veil. I have seen the seven seas on whose bosoms float the fleets of all nations and the commerce of the world. But, my friends, I want to say to you that water, as a beverage, isn't worth a hang!"

A young lady school teacher was stopped for driving past a stop light and was given a summons to appear at court the following Monday morning.

Before the magistrate, she told him that she was a school teacher and had to get back to her classes quickly, therefore perhaps he could immediately dismiss her case.

"So," said the magistrate, "you're a school teacher. That's fine. For years I've been waiting to have a school teacher in this court. You're now going to fulfill a lifelong ambition. Now," he roared, "you sit down at that table and write. 'I drove past a red light. Five hundred times!'"

ANGELS AND SACS DIVIDE

Coast League Teams Split Sunday's Games in Play-Off Series

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2 (AP).—Los Angeles split a double-header with the Angels in the first time, won 10-0, after holding the Mainlanders scoreless in the first two quarters. These three pictures show some of the fine action of the crowd of close to 1,000 witnessed during the battle. The final score was no indication of the play, for two very bad fumbles started the local machine down the losing trail. Coach George Deacon, former boss of North Shore Lions when they won the honors in 1937, was satisfied with the showing of the Revelers, and states that they will be in there fighting for victory in their next match against North Shore on Thanksgiving Day.

Arnold Stutz hit a home run with two on base in the eighth to give the Angels a 6-0-8 victory in the opener. Pitcher John Hubbell, brother of the noted Carl, allowed Los Angeles but three hits in the seven-inning nightcap, which the Senators won, 3 to 1.

Sacramento now holds a 3-2 edge in the series, which will wind up Tuesday night with a double-header, if necessary.

BERKELEY, Cal., Oct. 2 (AP).—The first of the foreign ranking players to arrive here was the victim of an upset at the hands of a Berkeley boy in the third day of play of the fifth Pacific Coast tennis tournament today.

Felicis Ampon, seventeen-year-old member of the Philippine Davis Cup squad and No. 10 in the foreign seeded list, was eliminated by Robert Harman, co-captain of the University of California squad. In straight sets, 6-2, 7-6, in a second-round match of men's singles.

Robert Riggs, Chicago, top ranked in the domestic, had little difficulty reaching the third round of play when he defeated Stanton Hawkins of Berkeley 6-2, 6-4. Walter Davis, Portland, advanced to the same round, winning over William Reed, San Francisco, 6-0, 6-4.

ADANACS WIN BOXLA CROWN IN INTERIOR

Score 18-8 Victory Over Nelson Maple Leafs in B.C. Final

NELSON, Oct. 2 (AP).—New Westminster's driving Adanacs tonight won the British Columbia senior box lacrosse championship by virtue of their 18-8 win over Nelson Maple Leafs, and qualified for the Dominion title series.

Adanacs were ahead at the end of each period of tonight's game, second of their best-of-three series. The visitors from the Fraser River port city won Saturday night's first tilt, 31-11.

Adanacs now meet the winner of the sudden-death game at Medicine Hat, Alta., Wednesday, between St. Catharines Athletics and the Alberta provincial champions in the Dominion series at Vancouver and New Westminster. The first of the series will be held in Vancouver on Friday.

The end of the almost scoreless first period tonight found Adanacs holding a slim 2-1 lead over the home-towners, but by halftime they had boosted their margin to five goals, 8-3. The three-quarter score was 13-5 for the winners.

Winnipeg, Oct. 2 (AP).—St. Catharines Athletics, seeking a second consecutive Canadian lacrosse championship, walloped the Manitoba titleholders, Elmwood Pats, of Winnipeg, 20-10 tonight at the Olympic rink in a sudden-death play-off game. Athletics reached the national semi-final.

The Eastern champions now proceed to Medicine Hat, where they engage the Alberta titleholders Wednesday in a sudden-death game, the winner continuing on to the Pacific Coast for the Mann Cup Dominion final with the British Columbia champions.

Athletics had all the best of play tonight until the fourth quarter, when the fighting Pats held a 6-5 edge in the scoring. St. Catharines led 8-2 at the end of the first quarter; 11-3 at halftime, and 15-4 after three-quarters.

Only about seven hundred saw the game, dull from the standpoint of Winnipeg fans until Elmwood's late rally. Athletics' fine passing and clever individual play had Pats completely baffled in the first three quarters.

T. G. ELLIOTT NEW FOOTBALL HEAD

WINNIPEG, Oct. 2 (AP).—T. G. Elliott, of Galt, Ont., has been elected president of the Dominion Football Association. It was announced here today by Sam Davidson, secretary of the association.

Mr. Elliott succeeds L. A. Polo, of Montreal, and moves up from the vice-presidency to the new post. The vice-presidency will be occupied by Fred Crumbeholme, of Calgary. Mr. Davidson said in announcing results of a mail vote.

chalked up a sweet 18-12 victory in the second game of the best of five series for the city box lacrosse championship at the Willows Sports Centre last night. A large crowd saw the delivery boys break an 11-all score one minute after the start of the final quarter and smash their way to a clear win.Tied at one game apiece, the same two teams will meet on the Sports
Centre floor tomorrow evening.
After the smart comeback of the Alerts last evening, after dropping the opening game to the Bays, 25-16, it should be another nip-and-tuck battle all the way.The balance in favor of the Alerts, however, was probably due to the forced idleness of several of the Alerts' proteges in the penalty box.LEADING SCORERBays spent a total of nineteen minutes in the cooler as compared with five for Alerts. Wally Williams, brilliant shooting centre, who netted seven goals for the winners, served the only penalty for Sargison's from behind and it was probably this anxiety that turned the tables against them. Pridham was ordered to the penalty box eight minutes from the final horn for charging from behind. Wallace couldn't see the decision and argued with Referee Ray Ditchburn—the result, he drew a fine of five minutes, leaving his team two men short.For blood as a result of their defeat on Friday night, the Alerts never stopped trying and peppered Goalie Art McKim unmercifully.

Although he had turned in a sterling performance throughout the three earlier periods, the Bays' net-minder just didn't have a chance with his defence broken up, and on one occasion was baffled it out on the floor when Williams sagged the wide-open net, making it 17-12.Gawley, at the other end of the floor, was on his toes the full sixty minutes of play, although he was forced to leave the game late in the quarter to have a cut head patched up. The fact that the Bays scored on him but twelve times is a clear indication of his clever netminding.CLOSE CHECKINGSo close was the checking that at the first quarter mark the scoreboard read 3-2 for the Bays. At the halfway the Servicemen had tied it at 6-all. An 11-all stalemate was chaired up as the stickhandlers caught their breath at three-quarter time and then Alerts went on a scoring rampage, ranning home seven goals to their opponents' one.Williams rode on the scoring bandwagon, notching seven of his team's total. "Baby Face" Jim Pickford, who turned in one of his finest performances both on the offence and defence, scored three goals.
Bischoffberger earned a like number.L. McKorkill scored three times for the Bays, and Red Mason, Doug Bray and Art Chapman put two each past Gawley.Bays went into a 3-1 lead ten minutes from the opening whistle, and appeared headed for another easy win. The blueshirts came right back, however, and squared the count at six goals apiece as the half rolled around.The Servicemen were without the services of Williams, who drew a five-minute "cooler" for shaking up Chuck Chapman, and the Bays ran up a two-goal lead. Williams took motion whipped it past McKim, a

BEGIN STUDIES*Men and Women Continue Their Education to Train
In Various OccupationsMen and women wishing to continue their education and to train themselves further in the trades, businesses and other occupations in which they are engaged, went back to school last night, when the first term's studies began in many of the subjects on the syllabus of the Victoria Night Schools.British and foreign students of many ages were enrolled for training that may lead to work, or to improve their hobbies. The night school centres—Victoria High School, Central Technical School, Kingston Street School, Kings Road School—were filled with new students as the 1939-1940 session got under way.WOMEN PREDOMINATERegistration this year, as estimated by Claude Campbell, director of night schools, may show a slight drop due to the war. More women are entering than men.This year's registrants have a wide and fascinating curriculum from which to choose. New courses include three for teachers (growth and development of children, dramatic art in schools, and language and literature in primary grades); a floral arrangement course by Miss Ede, and Kenneth McCallister's amateur photography course.Journalism and nursing classes this year are so popular that they have to be divided into two sessions.
The nursing course will cover the same material as the Red Cross and the St. John Ambulance courses.The dress appreciation course, under Victor Mott, will study style, art principles in dress and personality types. The English II and the ar-mature winding courses have been discontinued.AUSTRIAN REFUGEESA new element has entered the continuation and public speaking classes, the alien refugee eagerly trying to assimilate a new language and a new culture. Austrian refugees in particular are crowding to those courses.A high standard has been set for the instructors giving the courses and, apart from the value in general interest and education, the courses will be of practical value. Under the British Columbia Apprenticeship Act, to cite one case, every apprentice was asked to interview Mr. Campbell to see what theoretical courses would particularly benefit him. Fur-ther information is to be found in night school booklets in the Public Library, or at the school board office, G 1413.NEUTRALITY

Pittman declared United States ships and citizens must be kept out of the war zone and United States must play fair with all countries in the matter of arms supplies.Pittman said he had every confidence in President Roosevelt's declaration that he intended to keep United States out of war."Peace instead of profits" was Borah's slogan and he warned the creation of great arms factories for supplying foreign belligerents might bring sabotage and involve United States in conflict.The arms embargo, Borah held, was applied to prevent the United States from participating even indirectly in the destruction of human life and property by belligerents.ULTIMATE CONSEQUENCEBorah said he could not see how the United States, once having changed its law to permit sales which he said would admittedly go to the Allies, could refuse ultimately to send arms to their aid also.There was little reference to foreign powers by name nor any downright expression of attitude towards one or the other of the warring philosophies.Senators Pittman and Borah were the only speakers in the debate today. By agreement it is expected there will be only two speakers each day for this week. Senator Tom Cannell, Democrat, Texas, will lead off tomorrow.FULL-BLOODED TITLEA reader, who was shown the first

CHAPTER VIII

Although it seemed to Craig Madison that Friday would never come, the old earth kept up its stolid diurnal motion, and Friday did come.

Anita Boyce was the first of the house party to arrive. She came in the afternoon, determined to get all of the occasion that she possibly could.

She was a pretty little widow, short of stature, and would have been dumpy of figure but for the extreme cleverness of her modiste. She had been a friend of Florence, Harley Madison's wife, and in their early married years the four had been a congenial quartette. Then Anita's husband died, and almost immediately she assumed that it was written in the Book of Fate she should marry Harley.

Harley didn't see eye to eye with her, but she still had hopes. She came frequently to Silver Hill; she used all her blandishments on a rather disinterested host. Anita was a strong believer in persistence.

So when she arrived she went at once to the best suite, which had always been hers when she visited there, and was rejoiced to find it was still hers. For she had greatly feared it would be given over to the celebrity whose coming seemed to be a matter of great pride to the entire household.

Cornelia Madison's competent maid Jenny was a little absent-minded as she looked after Mrs. Boyce's belongings.

"Mind what you're about, Jenny," Anita said crossly. "I suppose you're fair daft at the thought of having a motion picture actress to look after."

"I fear I am, Mrs. Boyce," and Jenny laughed good-naturedly. "I've seen the lady on the screen and she is so lovely I'm wondering if she can be like that in real life."

"You'll soon have a chance to find out. Don't stand there crumpling that organdy shirtwaist in your hands."

"No, ma'am," and Jenny tried to put her attention on her work.

Anita decided to wear a casual dinner gown, a very smart affair that was surely beyond the criticism of any glamour girl that ever stepped out of Hollywood. Jenny helped her into it with exclamations of approval. With a few final pokes and pats to her rolls of yellow hair, Anita went downstairs, paused in the doorway, with one hand on the door frame, and smilingly waited for applause.

Harley Madison knew his lines. "Welcome, my Anita!" he cried out and rose, greeting her with outstretched hands.

She knew Laura and George Lee, was delighted to meet a new man, Gifford Hale, and finally settled down beside her host with a rather definite air of proprietorship.

Harley, however, did not play up. He excused himself, saying he had important telephoning to attend to. Bidding Ames to come with him, he went to the study.

"How are things going in the town?" Anita asked as Craig Madison came over and sat beside her.

"Not so good. There was rather a stormy meeting a few nights ago, and its results are developing, slowly but unpleasantly."

"Is Harley upset?"

"Oh, he never gets upset, but it keeps him guessing."

"Tell me, Anita, reached her goal at last. 'Tell me, Craig, about this fancy lady you've picked up. What is she like?'"

"If you mean Yvette Verne, I don't like the term you use. She isn't like anyone else; she's a goddess."

"Hard hit, are you?"

"Oh, everybody is who sees her." Anita, who rather fancied herself one, was not pleased.

"You're not interesting to me any more. Go away and send that Hale man over here. He's looking at me as if he wanted to come."

She smiled to take away any hint of ill-temper.

Craig went on the errand Gifford Hale came duly, and Anita promptly made eyes on him.

Her eyes were large and blue, a beautiful cerulean, but with no shadows of reservations. Her carefully preserved blonde beauty was all her fancy painted it, but the slightly injured look she habitually wore was fatal to her otherwise pretty charm. Her really golden hair was done by the most famous coiffeur, in the most stilted and artificial style.

Hetty, who had caught sight of her, told the cook that Mrs. Boyce's head looked like a hayfield, cut and dried.

Cornelia, with her gracious ease, reached Gifford Hale and gave him over to Laura Lee, while she sent Tom Sheldon to play round with Anita.

Craig was outside patrolling the drive when, to his great relief and delight, Yvette's car appeared, far down the long driveway.

The girl was smiling to herself; she was going to be one of a house party, only one member of which she knew anything about. And she could scarcely be said to know much about him, for that short interview at Amy Crosby's meant little by way of acquaintance.

(To Be Continued)

J. T. Harahan, president of the Illinois Central, some years ago was sitting in his office when a burly fellow entered without knocking.

"My name's Casey," he belowed. "I want a pass to St. Louis. I wurk in the yards."

Harahan objected. "That's no way to ask for a pass; you should introduce yourself politely. Come back in an hour and try again."

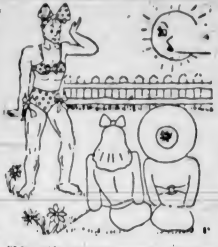

At the end of an hour the caller returned. Doffing his hat, he inquired: "Are yez Mr. Harahan?"

"I am."

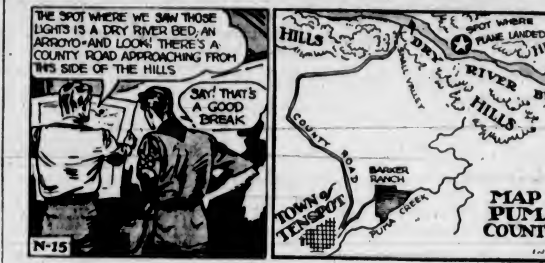

"Ma name's Patrick Casey. I've been wur-kin' in the yards."

"Glad to know you, Mr. Casey. What can I do for you?"

"Yez can go to blazes. I've got a job on the Missouri Pacific."

BRITAIN TAKES SURPLUS STOCK

Australian Wool Clip and Other Products Included
In New Arrangement

TORONTO, Oct. 2 (CP).—Details of the arrangement under which the British Government has purchased the entire Australian wool clip and acquired the Commonwealth's export surplus of other farm products have been announced through the Australian Trade Commissioner's office.

A central wool committee has been appointed in Australia to act for the British Government. Other countries desiring supplies of wool will be required to make arrangements with the committee. The committee is formulating conditions and operative arrangements. All export of wool, wool tops and rolls must be under licence.

CONTROL BOARDS

All export surplus of meat, butter, cheese, dried fruits, canned fruits and eggs is being taken over by Britain. "Provision will probably be made for supply to normal overseas non-enemy markets with the concurrence of the British Government," said the commissioner's statement. Control boards will administer these schemes except in the case of eggs, for which a special committee is being established.

Under the plan by which the Commonwealth Government has taken over wheat, a board of control has been appointed. The board will have a wheat committee in each state working at its direction. Licensed agents will be the only persons to whom growers may deliver wheat, and all trading will be done through them. So far the Commonwealth has acquired wheat only in Western Australia. Normal trading will be continued in other states up to November 1. Thereafter it is expected "conditions will alter in accordance with the policy of the board."

HIDES AND SKINS

A proclamation dated September 20 prohibits exportation from Australia of hides and skins without consent in writing of the Minister of Customs.

Under Australia's new export regulations, requiring licensing of all exports, with certain exceptions such as ships' stores, the licensee must deliver shipping documents, together with bills of exchange, to the Commonwealth Bank or its agents. On receipt of the net proceeds from sale of goods exported under licence, the bank will pay to the licensee an equivalent amount of Australian currency.

CONFLICTS MUST BE SETTLED TO OBTAIN PEACE OF MIND

Some months ago I spoke of a middle-aged man who consulted the physician about his indigestion. The attacks came on sometimes before meals, sometimes after meals, and sometimes half-way between meals. There was a progressive loss of weight. There were no definite symptoms of ulcer or cancer but the physician advised X-ray examination. This examination revealed no ulcer or cancer but a nervous fluttering or quick successive movements of the stomach walls due, in the opinion of the physician, to nervousness or emotional upsetment. The cause was a domestic difficulty which the patient was advised to get settled in "some" way. When the difficulty was settled, the indigestion disappeared.

The subsequent history of this case is interesting in that since the day he "settled" his problem there has been a gradual increase in weight and the patient is again contented. This examination revealed no ulcer or cancer but a nervous fluttering or quick successive movements of the stomach walls due, in the opinion of the physician, to nervousness or emotional upsetment. The cause was a domestic difficulty which the patient was advised to get settled in "some" way. When the difficulty was settled, the indigestion disappeared.

Now we all have worries or conflicts and what would seem like big conflicts to some are small to others and vice versa but it is only when we get these conflicts "settled" in some way that peace of mind comes to us.

The physician by questioning is able to note that a certain name of a certain subject seems to upset the patient and still closer questioning brings the conflict to light. By discovering the cause of the conflict and discussing it freely, the patient is able to recognize just how it can affect his appetite, his sleep, his enjoyment of life, his behavior with others and other everyday circumstances or happenings. Once this becomes clear to him, the battle is more than half won.

Some of us fight conflicts in one way—trying to forget them—or in another way—analyzing them in our minds and trying to show ourselves they are not so very important. These methods may help some but if we are normal physically—no low infection sapping our strength—the best plan to get peace of mind is to try to "settle" the conflict in one way or another. Once the mind is made up to the situation there is no conflict.
